MATRONS' ASSOCIATION

DISTINGUISHED MEMBERS OF EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINED BY MRS. CAMPBELL

Mrs. Daniel Campbell of Ard Eevin, North Glendale, on Saturday entertained at a pretty but informal luncheon, members of the Matrons' Club of Los Angeles, of which she is an honorary member by reason of having been Grand Chaplain of the State of California. These ladies were so pleasantly associated during the term of Mrs. Campbell's office in 1919, that they decided to make it permanent by this organization. They meet once a month at the homes of members and Mrs. Campbell entertained them Saturday in her turn.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, Junior Grand Matron, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Campbell, was a guest of honor. Representatives of Monrovia, Alhambra, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Pasadena, Burbank, Glendale and Covina were present.

Besides the feminine guests there were three gentlemen to keep Mr. Campbell company from Anaheim, Los Angeles and Azusa. Several of the grand officers who were present went to Fillmore by auto to institute a new chapter there. The Grand Patron, Dr. Wallace, of San Francis-

JOINT MEETING

The Epworth League Sub-District, and the Christian Endeavor District Union executives met in a joint session at the Lutheran Church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 for the purpose of talking over plans for an Easter sunrise service.

Ethel Murphy, president of the Epworth League Sub-District, was elected chairman. Plans were discussed as to time, place and program. It was decided to build a portable platform and if possible erect a cross. Rev. Mottern, pastor of the Luthern Church, was appointed to take charge of this work, to do what he sees fit and choose his helpers. The program was left in charge of the district presidents, which assures the best that can be obtained.

After this session the different executives adjourned to their separate meeting for a short session.

EBLES SELL, BUY, BUILD

R. A. Eble and wife of 1146 Campbell Street are now living in their third house in the compass of three lots. They first bought the house at 1152, lived in it awhile and sold it then, and moved into 1142. They decided to build on the lot between the two a few months ago, sold the house at 1142 and moved into the new one.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Monroe Crist entertained Saturday evening with a family dinner in honor of the birthday of the doctor's mother, Mrs. C. B. Crist. Wild flowers from the hills and fields were used in a pretty scheme of decoration for the affair. Covers were laid for Mrs. C. B. Crist, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vroman, of Los Angeles, Dr. and Mrs. Crist and their son, Kenneth.

ST. PATRICK BIRTHDAY

MRS. W. KOHL, BORN MARCH 17, ENTERTAINS LOS ANGELES FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kohl of 732 South Columbus Avenue entertained Sunday in celebration of Mrs Kohl's birthday, which falls on the 17th but which could be more conveniently honored on the 14th. The guests for the most part were old friends with whom the hostess had been associated in Los Angeles. They spent a social afternoon out of doors on the lawn, playing games and otherwise enjoying themselves and at 6 o'clock a big dinner prepared by the hostess was served with the help of her daughter, Miss Susie Kohl, who is talented with her brush and had painted the place cards which bore a St. Patrick decoration. Green very appropriately dominated the color scheme and the emblems of the patron saint of the Emerald Isle were much in evidence. A guest who divided honor with the hostess was her son, Corp. Rudolph, from the aviation section of March Field, Riverside, who came with his friend, Sergeant Frank Murray, to attend the celebration. Others for whom covers were laid were: Mrs. Tomlinson, Miss Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Kellam, Miss Roberta Wells, Mrs. Mangel, Mr. Beolzig, Miss Susie Kohl, Walter Kohl and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kohl.

ANIMAL INSPECTION

INSPECTOR IN CHARGE TELLS HOW IT IS CONDUCTED IN PACKING HOUSES

Dr. A. R. Koen, who recently sold his home in Hollywood, has come to Glendale and is living at 1263-A South Brand Boulevard until he can find a residence that suits him to buy. He has been connected with the United States Veterinary Department for 17 years past, 12 of which were spent in the East. He is now in charge of the work in Los Angeles. There are but three packing houses in that city that have slaughter houses, the others not handling fresh meats. In these three are 17 inspectors, all working under Dr. Koen. Every animal slaughtered is inspected thoroughly just before killing, to ascertain if it is in a healthy condition. When tagged as such it goes to the slaughter pens. The carcasses then receive a thorough inspection, the lungs, liver, kidneys, heart and other internal organs being examined for traces of disease that would not be disclosed in the ante mortem inspection. If all is found perfect then the carcass is stamped as ready to be sold. There are many private abattoirs where animals are slaughtered which have only city or county inspection and ranchers are allowed to slaughter animals they raise without any legal formalities attaching. Dr. Koen likes his work very much and says it is vital to the preservation of the health of meat eaters. He says the inspections are rigid and no defect in an animal gets by his inspectors.

BROADWAY SCHOOL

Pupils of the second, third and fourth grades in the Broadway School had to content themselves with half-day sessions the first five days of the week. On Friday they were able to occupy the three class rooms cut off from the main building on the east and moved to the north on the campus. The children of that school will be glad when the new playground is thrown open to use because at present they are confined to a strip on the west of the school house and are much cramped for room in which to play.

HALE AND STRONG AT 81

T. W. LAWRENCE GOOD WORKMAN THOUGH PAST FOUR SCORE

T. W. Lawrence was found Saturday afternoon working hard at finishing a double garage which he and his nephew, T. S. Lawrence, are building for the latter at 1122 Campbell Street, just north of Dryden. This garage is of hollow tile cemented over and finished inside with button lath, plastered, which makes it fireproof. It will be occupied by the owner as a temporary residence while he and his uncle build a fine home of hollow tile and stucco on the front of the lot, which is 250 feet deep. The two men own in partnership 250 feet frontage and after the nephew's house is completed, a similar residence will be built for the elder Lawrence. Each of the houses is expected to cost from ten to twelve thousand dollars. The Lawrences, who have been in many states of the Union and in several cities of Southern California, declare their location is the finest for healthfulness and beautiful scenery they have come across in all their travels. They are living at the present time in T. W. Lawrence's home at 530 West Lexington Drive—T. W. Law-

FORD CAR FOUND BY ROADSIDE

A police officer patrolling South San Fernando Road Sunday morning picked up a Ford car at the roadside bearing license number 273,525. No information regarding it could be learned at the sheriff's office or city police department, so it was taken to the Ford Agency and left.

FROM SEA TO MOUNTAINS

Dr. and Mrs. E. Leslie Eames entertained as Sunday guests Lieut. and Mrs. Maxwell and the lieutenant's mother, also Mrs. Maxwell's sister, Miss Daniels. Disregarding the wind the party motored to Altadena where they found a sheltered nook and enjoyed a picnic dinner. The change from the sea to the mountains was a great treat to the lieutenant, who is an officer on the battleship Mississippi now stationed at San Pedro.

GERMAN REVOLUTIONISTS OPPOSED

OPPONENTS TO PRUSSIAN AUTOCRACY WILL NOT ACCEPT REGIME OF DICTATOR VON KAPP

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, March 15.—Marshal Foch has recommended that allied troops occupy the Ruhr and Essen industrial districts, according to unofficial reports circulated here today.

Undated Dispatch—Extensive opposition to the German revolutionary government which seized power last Saturday was indicated in today's dispatches. The Ebert government, according to Dresden dispatches, has refused the request of the revolutionaries to enter into negotiations. President Ebert was quoted as declaring that the revolutionary group represents merely a few partisans who have seized power temporarily. Ebert is reported to have sent an emissary to Berlin to demand the return of the central governmental powers.

Other dispatches said that the Ebert group is organizing armed opposition in some cities. Fighting was reported in Kiel, Essen and Frankfurt. Gustav Noske, Ebert's defense minister, also was reported as organizing military opposition to the revolutionists.

A general strike movement to embarrass the revolutionists was also reported as meeting with success. Reports of a strike of railway workers were considered significant. Workers in Munich have joined the general strike, dispatches said. The South German states who always have opposed Prussian militarism, apparently are entirely out of sympathy with this invasion and will not recognize the revolutionists. The industrial districts where the socialists and radicals look upon the Ebert government as the lesser of two evils, also have refused to recognize Von Kapp's revolutionary dictatorship.

Berlin dispatches said that members of the deposed government have come out in opposition to the revolutionists there. The radicals have taken advantage of the general confusion to declare a soviet republic in the Hof and Schweinfurt districts, one dispatch said. The national assembly, it was said, had been called to meet at Stuttgart on Wednesday.

The allied governments apparently will take no active part in the situation unless further developments render it necessary.

The Dutch government, Amsterdam dispatches said, has reinforced the troops guarding the former kaiser and crown prince.

Berlin dispatches say a general strike has been called at the great Krupp steel works at Essen.

London reported that the Supreme Council of the peace conference met in Downing street today to consider the situation brought about by the revolution in Germany.

ARTICLE 10 RESERVATIONS

TWO INTRODUCED IN SENATE THIS MORNING DEFEATED, THE FIRST BY VOTE OF 17 TO 59

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Senate today rejected the Frelinghuysen Reservation to article 10 of the league of nations covenant. This was the first of the pending reservations to this article to be voted upon. The vote was 17 to 59, only republican and democratic irreconcilables supporting it. The vote on the reservation showed that Wadsworth, Sutherland and Frelinghuysen have joined the irreconciliables as they have been threatening to do.

Following the rejection of the Frelinghuysen reservation, Kirby of Arkansas, a democrat, introduced a reservation to which forty democrats had pledged their votes. The reservation was defeated.

TRADE POLICIES OF PAPER COMPANIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The House today adopted a resolution by Representative Harrison, democrat, of Virginia, directing the Department of Commerce to investigate alleged discrimination against small newspapers by trade practices of paper companies.

FREIGHTER IN DISTRESS

MEETS DISASTER ON HER MAIDEN VOYAGE 700 MILES OFF YOKOHAMA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOKIO, March 15.—The freighter Higo, a 7500-ton steel ship, carrying a crew of 45, making her maiden voyage, is in distress 700 miles off Yokohama. Her deck is giving way, according to wireless dispatches. The steamer Eldridge is assisting her.

A CHANGE AT SHAVER'S

J. H. REDMAN SELLS HIS INTEREST AND WILL TAKE REST

J. H. Redman has sold his interest in the business of the Shaver Grocery Company and will take a much-needed rest. Mr. Redman came to Glendale with his wife and son, A. R., from Chicago, 16 years ago, and bought a place at 415 West Ninth Street, as it was then, 727 E. Windsor Road as it is now. They came out here on account of a severe nervous breakdown suffered by Mr. Redman, his doctor giving him only six months to live. He improved rapidly, however, but his wife began to fail after a few years and died in December, 1913. On September 4, 1916, he bought an interest in the Shaver grocery and devoted himself to that work until threatened with another nervous breakdown, which decided him to get out of it at the first opportunity.

The son, A. R., is now head of the mechanical department of the Vocational School at Oakland. He had had several years' experience in similar work in various schools of California and Arizona. Mr. Redman, Sr., has no intention of leaving Glendale, he says, regarding it as the ideal home city.

DEATH OF NELLIE CONSTANCE STEELMAN

After more than a year of ill health and suffering, Nellie Constance Steelman, wife of Dr. C. Stuart Steelman, passed away Saturday afternoon, March 13, 1920, at one o'clock. At the last there was surcease from pain and her death was peaceful and beautiful. She was born October 20, 1888, in St. Paul, Minn., where her parents and one brother and sister, reside. Rev. Maddox was the officiating clergyman at her marriage to Dr. Steelman nine years ago, and he will perform the last sad services when the body of this beautiful, talented young wife and mother is laid to rest in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, the services taking place Tuesday at two o'clock in the afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers with the Scovern Company in charge.

Mrs. Steelman suffered an attack of influenza a year ago last August, but it was not recognized as such at the time because at the beginning of the epidemic here. She never recovered her normal vigor following that illness and gradually declined until the end came. Hoping to benefit by a change she went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Fleming, at Blythe, but her hope was not realized and longing for her home and children brought her back to Glendale a few weeks ago.

She leaves three children, Stuart, Constance and Marguerite Steelman; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bostrom of St. Paul; a brother and sister in that city, a sister, Mrs. Fleming, of Blythe, and a brother, George Bostrom, of Los Angeles. Her sister, Mrs. L. V. Rising, who formerly resided at 275 West Elk St., passed away three years ago.

Mrs. Steelman was a graduate of the Cumnock School of Expression, and was a woman of rare charm and talent, a devoted wife and mother. She was a member of the University Christian church of Los Angeles, and belonged to the Tuesday Afternoon Club. She will be missed in a large circle of friends and neighbors who were warmly attached to her.

DEATH OF MRS. SARAH C. FIELD

In Berkeley, California, March 9, 1920, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Goodsell, occurred the death of Mrs. Sarah C. Field. She had resided in Berkeley for the last four years, but before that time had lived for many years in Southern California. Her husband and son came to Los Angeles in 1875, while she and her daughter arrived from Oberlin, Ohio, in 1876. The first home in California was a ten-acre ranch in what is now the Vernon district of Los Angeles. After a few years Mrs. Field and her husband, Rev. A. P. Field, moved to Monrovia, California, where they lived for over twenty years. After the death of Mr. Field, Grandma Field, as she came to be known, lived with her son, Rev. Frederic A. Field, whose death preceded that of his mother. While in Glendale Mrs. Field was a member of the Bapaist church, many of whose members were most thoughtful of her, as one of the old ladies of the church for she lived to the old age of 92.

Funeral services were held in the First Congregational church of Berkeley, of which her daughter is a member.

NEW BOULEVARD

FIRST OF THE SEVERAL CONTEMPLATED PROJECTS LAUNCHED SATURDAY

Interested property owners and others to the number of 25 attended a meeting at the new park Saturday afternoon to consider the extension of Patterson Avenue both ways to make it a connecting boulevard between San Fernando Road and Brand Boulevard. Mattison B. Jones presided and briefly stated the object of the meeting and there was considerable discussion, all of it favorable to the plan. It was decided, without a dissenting voice, that the project was a feasible one and would be of great benefit to the city in many ways, opening, as it would, a direct highway route from San Fernando Road southeast and east, across the Wash at Concord Street, past the park and over to Brand. Traffic would thus be diverted through the center of the residence and business portions of the city. A petition was circulated and numerously signed, asking that steps be taken at once to order the improvement and provide an assessment district for the same. The plan contemplates the extension of Concord Street north to the Wash, which it would cross on the same bridge that the new boulevard would, and south to connect with the proposed new Broadway extension. The extension of Patterson Avenue east from Central to Brand would border the proposed new bungalow court very closely and may cause a modification of the plans for the same. It would necessitate the removal of only one house, F. S. Webster's six-room bungalow, that was begun about ten days ago. But Mr. Webster says he will throw no obstacle in the way of this vital improvement, but will move the new house to another lot when the time comes to put the street work in.

AUTO AND STREET CAR COLLIDE

Sunday evening about 7 o'clock while Motorman Daugherty of the P. E. was doing some switching his car collided with a machine driven by T. A. Bell of 631 South Bonnie Brae, Los Angeles, near the Maryland Avenue crossing. The front bumper, both lamps and the left fender were considerably damaged, but no one hurt. The motorman contends that the autoist ran into his car.

BEST CLASS OF BUILDINGS

Clarence Jay of Burchett Street is at present engaged in designing a house for a Toronto millionaire who is building a California home. Mr. Jay says there is no slowing up on the best class of residence construction because it is designed for homes and not for speculative investment, therefore the owners do not count the cost or figure on whether they will get it back or not. For that reason the building interests of California will suffer less than in some other parts of the country because Southern California is becoming the playground of the world to which people of wealth come for the purpose of enjoying themselves without counting the cost.

VISIT GLENDALE

HATTIE AND JEAN HOBBS ENJOYING VACATION AT THEIR HOLLYWOOD HOME

Miss Hattie and Jean Hobbs surprised their many friends in Glendale when they motored from Hollywood Saturday afternoon with their mother, Mrs. H. Hobbs. Miss Hattie Hobbs is connected with the Kern County Motor Company of Bakersfield and came to Los Angeles Friday by machine to visit her mother and sister, Jean. Miss Jean Hobbs arrived from Denver Thursday where she has been spending some months in the study of art under expert instructors, traveling extensively through the northwestern states during the course of her studies. As yet she has made no definite plans as to how long she will be away from her studies, as she is worn out from her trip and has given herself up completely to a thorough rest.

The Hobbs' are a well known Canadian family who came to Glendale two years ago in search of health and rest after strenuous war activities in their Canadian home. While in Glendale they lived at 539 North Jackson Street, Miss Hattie Hobbs having been employed in the office of J. F. Lilly until he left Glendale, and then taking up work at the City Hall in the office of the City Treasurer, having charge of the employment bureau.

WHY NOT A PEOPLE'S CAUCUS?

On April 12, the voters of Glendale will be called upon to elect three city trustees, a city clerk and a city treasurer. The election is an important one, as during the next city administration $260,000 of water bond money already voted will be spent, a municipal sewer system will be up for consideration, and a special charter for the governing of the city will likely be adopted.

All of these questions and many other important ones should be grappled by men who are the first choice of the citizens of Glendale, and the very best way to allow the people to make this choice is by giving them a chance to participate in a caucus held in the Union High School Auditorium on a date fixed before the limitation of time for making nominations which will be Tuesday, March 23.

The date of the proposed caucus should be given thorough publicity, and when held it should be conducted in an impartial manner, the voting being carried on by written ballot.

The Evening News is heartily in favor of a people's caucus as suggested above, and is ready to co-operate with all others who favor the plan.

WOMEN VOTERS ARE THINKING

What distinguishes the League of Women Voters, which met in Chicago recently and formulated a platform, is that it is less busied with politics than with constructive suggestions to improve the conditions of living. The women are not concerned with getting themselves elected to office. They are, apparently, not much concerned with who is elected to any office, if they can obtain popular support for their program to reduce the cost of living and improve working conditions of women in industry. How long they may be able to maintain this aloofness and preserve their ranks from party discord is problematic, but for the moment it promises to serve their purpose well.

New movements have usually sought success by formation of new political parties to emblazon their platforms. Usually, also, such movements have failed. With one or two notable exceptions, the great changes in American life have been accomplished through the existing great political parties. Women are profiting by this experience. Their own cause triumphs when republicans and democrats entered eager competition to espouse it. They now hope to stimulate similar competition equally profitable to them.—Monrovia News.

NAVAL NEGLECT CHARGED

ADMIRAL SIMS DECLARES INADEQUATE PROTECTION WAS GIVEN FIRST WAR TROOPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Neglect by the Navy Department in protecting troop transports early in the war was charged today by Rear Admiral William Sims in resuming his testimony in the Senate Naval inquiry. Sims declared he was horrified at the lack of precautions he discovered concerning the troop movements and asserted that the first troops reached France safely largely through good luck. Inadequate arrangements were made for destroyer escort through the danger zone, he declared. The sailing of the first ships was published in the papers of Berlin four days before the ships actually reached Queenstown, Sims said.

TWO MORE ANTI-PROHIBITION CASES

SUPREME COURT ASKED TO ADVANCE ARGUMENTS ON SAN FRANCISCO TEST LITIGATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Supreme Court today was asked to advance arguments on two more appeals attacking the validity of constitutional prohibition. One was brought by Chris Figenstan of New Jersey, a brewer, the other is the San Francisco test case in which J. J. Dillon sought arrest for violating prohibition laws to determine their validity. In both lower courts the "wets" lost.

DOWNEY RESIDENT CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY IN GLENDALE

There was a very pleasant birthday party yesterday at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire, 245 South Everett Street. Her brother, John Kincaid, of Downey, was 65 years old that day and by special invitation he came up to Glendale to celebrate the occasion, accompanied by his wife and two sons. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simon, of Los Angeles, longtime friends of both Mr. Kincaid and his sister, were present as invited guests. The house was decorated with lilacs and pink roses for the occasion and the dinner table was centered with a large pink birthday cake bearing its quota of candles. In addition to substantial eatables, the menu comprised ice cream, candy, salted nuts and other delicacies.

TO GO TO MEXICO

C. M. RETTS AND WILL MARPLE TO DEVELOP RANCHES IN SONORA

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Retts who have been living at 1009 Mariposa Street expect to get into the home they are building on West Park Avenue May 1st. The house in which they are living has been sold and they are to give possession of it April 1st. The interval they will spend as guests of Mrs. Marple, mother of Mrs. Retts, who lives at 213 West Palmer.

Early in May Mr. Retts and his brother-in-law, Will Marple, are planning to leave for Mexico, where each has a ranch about sixty miles west of Hermosillo, in the State of Sonora. It is about 150 miles below the United States border, in a rich country which has been settled by Americans for fourteen or fifteen years, and which has never experienced raids or other trouble at the hands of bandits. The two gentlemen are intensely interested in their venture and have no fears for their personal safety or the security of their products. If their present plans are carried out they will raise cotton, which seems to be a very good crop there and for which there is a ready market.

Mrs. Retts will remain here in the home her husband is building that she may keep her children in school. It is within a block of her brother, Dr. Joseph Marple, and she will be very pleasantly situated. The two adventurers are making no promises as to when they will return, but they hope to get back at Christmas time.

J. H. Rowe, who bought a three-acre tract at the southeast corner of Park Avenue and San Fernando Road a few months ago and put up a house for himself and wife to live in, expects to build several houses on the tract to sell. He took out a permit today for the first one, of five rooms, also a garage at 410 W. Park Avenue, to cost $2200.

Mercer, now in charge of the hotel, are old-time friends, the latter having been a high school student in Mr. Farrington's classes before he, Mr. F., studied dentistry and took on the title of doctor. HEARING THE NEWS

LARGE AUDIENCE AT GLENDALE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ENJOYS EVENING DISCOURSE

The Presbyterian church was filled both morning and evening to hear the music and sermons. Miss Hammond of Hollywood, presided at the pipe organ in the morning and Miss Rice, of Glendale, one of the new residents, was at the organ for the evening service.

Rev. Edmond's sermon, "Have You Heard the News?" had for its text, Isa. 53:1. A few of the main points were: There was one man in Israel who remained true. He set his face like a flint to spread the good news of the gospel. There is much of mystery associated with the good news. Among others 3 of the mysteries are: The mystery of the manger, or the mystery of the incarnation; then the mystery of the cross, or how Jesus can take my sins upon Him and I stand guiltless before the throne of God; and third, the mystery of the resurrection. Go to the kernel of corn and ask it how it grows or the acorn why it becomes a great oak. There are three conditions before you can accept these three great mysteries. First, the acknowledgement of sin, second, repentance, and third, confession of faith. These things are the only hope for salvation and this is the way all must come from the highest to the lowest. "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near."

The evening sermon was the first in a series on "Jonah." The subject was, "A Man Not Easily Bent."

ENTERTAIN TOURISTS

MR. AND MRS. BRALY OPEN HOME TO FRIENDS FROM N. Y. AND MINNESOTA

Last Friday evening John Hyde Braly had the pleasure of entertaining an old friend from New York, Mr. Henneberger, a man of wealth and leisure who is quite a globe trotter. As he is also the friend of H. Jevne, the Los Angeles wholesale grocer, Mr. Jevne was likewise a dinner guest. It was a pleaasnt reunion which was greatly enjoyed by the host and hostess. Sunday the Bralys entertained two ladies from Minneapolis, Minn., viz., Mrs. Etta Gilbert and her sister, Miss Mary Lindsay. Miss Lindsay is a graduate of Wellesley and was a classmate of Mrs. Braly's niece. She had never visited Southern California before and she and her sister are perfectly delighted with the country, thinking it would be a fine place in which to live. In the afternoon they were given an automobile trip to Elysian and Exposition Park, also to Chester place, that they might get some general idea of the Angel City. They are making their headquarters at a Los Angeles hotel.

Mrs. Wells, sister and house guest of Mrs. Braly, has been having some very pleasant outings with friends who are stopping at the Maryland in Pasadena and touring Southern California by auto.

RAY BORTHICK TO ERECT LARGE BUSINESS BUILDING

Ray Borthick, through his contractor, Ed Daniels, this morning took out a permit for the erection of a two-story building and one-story garage to occupy the four lots north of the Masonic Temple which will be numbered 222, 224, 226 and 228 S. Brand Boulevard. The building will be of brick with white enamel facing. There will be two business rooms and an office room below and office suites and apartments above.

ABOUT THAT SWIMMING POOL

Judge Lowe, who is in charge of the swimming pool project for the new park, says that in the drive for the necessary funds which begins this afternoon, the boys and girls have set their mark at $500 a day and as much more as possible. So meet them with a smile and a generous contribution when they call at your home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Rowley of Whittier called at the home of Pierson Hanning, 235 North Orange, Sunday afternoon. They report business good and a great deal of building going on in Whittier.

After the meeting in the new park Saturday afternoon to discuss the Patterson Avenue extension, a few trees were planted. Trustee Jackson, who was ill and unable to attend the wholesale planting when the park was dedicated, set out his four redwoods and the city forester set out a few other trees.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Alexander of South Maryland Avenue, entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Snyder of Glidden, Iowa, who are spending the winter in Long Beach. Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Alexander were teachers in the same school in the East and have always kept up the acquaintance. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bowne of Hollywood, their daughter, Evelyn, and son, Morgan, were also guests. They, like Mrs. Alexander, came from Marseilles, Ill., and are well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Snyder. It was a most pleasant reunion of old friends.

GOOD ADVICE

Perhaps some of the young men of this community who have refused our good advice will heed the advice of Benjamin Franklin.

Here is what Benjamin Franklin said to the young men: "Save, young man and become respected and respectable. It is the surest way."

The only mistake he made was in not mentioning our bank as the place to begin saving.

The fact is, our bank had not started when Franklin made the above remark or he would have told the young men to start a bank account at co, and Mrs. Elsensohn of Los Angeles, the Grand Matron, also went to Ventura Saturday night to make their official visit.

Mrs. Campbell had beautifully decorated her home with daffodils, carnations, sweet peas and roses and the ladies had a pleasant social afternoon as well as a busy one over quilts which they are making for the Masonic Orphans' Home at Covina, which they are helping to furnish and equip. Mrs. Marshall at the close of her administration as Grand Matron recommended that the Grand Chapter appropriate $1000 for the education of one of these orphans to be selected. The recommendation was adopted and the money appropriated to be known as the Elizabeth Mary Marshall Scholarship. This money will be appropriated from year to year until the education of the beneficiary is completed. The Grand Chapter has also voted to educate a boy.

THE TROUBLE WITH WASHINGTON

Secretary Lane, in laying down the portfolio of the Interior Department, did the country a service by pointing out what is wrong with the machinery of our national government. This part of Mr. Lane's farewell address deserves special study.

First, the credit side. It may go contrary to general opinion, and yet is doubtless true, as Mr. Lane says, that Washington "is rich in brains and character," and also "honest beyond any commercial standard," and that "it wishes to do everything that will promote the public good." One may make all due allowance for politics, and still accept that. But it avails little. Good intentions fail, says Mr. Lane, because Washington "is poorly organized for the task that belongs to it."

"Fewer men of larger capacity would do the task better. Ability is not lacking but it is pressed to the point of paralysis because of an infinitude of details and an unwillingness on the part of the great body of public servants to take responsibility.

"Every one seems to be afraid of every one. The self-protective sense is developed abnormally, the creative sense atrophies.

"Trust, confidence, enthusiasm—those simple virtues of all great business are the ones most lacking in government organization. We have so many checks and brakes upon our work that our progress does not keep pace with the nation's requirements.

"We could save money for the government if we had more discretion as to how we should use that given us. For the body of the civil servants there should be quicker promotion or discharge and a sure insurance when disability comes.

"For the higher administrative officers there should be salaries twice as high as those now given, and they should be made to feel that they are the ones responsible for the work of the department; the head being merely an adviser and a constructor of policies.

"As matters are now devised, there are too few in the government whose business it is to plan. Every man is held to details, to the narrower view, which comes too often to be the department view or some sort of parochial view.

"We need for the day that is here and upon us men who have little to do but study the problems of the time and test their capacity at meeting them.

"In a word, we need more opportunity for planning, engineering, statesmanship above, and more fixed authority and responsibility below."

There we have it in a nutshell. The government is poorly engineered. It needs particularly the elements that have made private business successful. Join the methods of the big private corporation to the spirit of public service that characterizes the best type of officeholders, and then we shall have the sort of government we want. Is it a futile dream? —Long Beach Telegram.

THE WINDS OF TWILIGHT

By Arthur Wallace Peach

Fragrant with the roses
Of gardens dim and far,
The dew of meadows dreaming
Beneath the evening star,
Drift the winds of twilight
Across the sunset miles
Where hills keep watch eternal
From scented woodland aisles.

Tender as the whisper
Of loving heart to heart,
And wistful as with farewell
Where travelers depart,
Speak the winds of twilight,
Low bending to the earth,
With moods of grief yet holding
Shy echoings of mirth.

Like a voice of prayer
With healing in its word
And the sound of music
Far and faintly heard,
Blow, O winds of twilight,
Soft from the vanished years,
And bear to Hills of Silence
Our longings and our tears!

"A New Lease of Life Through Internal Baths"

Mr. E. Shain of Santa Cruz, Cal., writes to the Tyrrell Hygienic Institute:

"My wife and I will be 85 years young next Birthday and consider that the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has given us a new lease on life for we now enjoy the best of health. We were going down hill fast but the Cascade has given us such health as we have not enjoyed in years."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste.

Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment.

Roberts & Echols in Glendale will be glad to show you the "J. B. L. Cascade," explain its simple operation and will give you, free on request, an interesting little book by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, a noted specialist on Internal Bathing for 25 years in that City. Clip this out as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity.

WAR HISTORY

Following is presented the history and the plan of the War History Committee for Los Angeles county, to whom has been assigned the gathering and preserving for permanent record material and data having to do with the part of Los Angeles county in the Great War.

The work was begun by the State Council of Defense and much material was gathered with a view to its ultimate preservation. When the War History Committee of the State Council of Defense was formed it enlisted the assistance of the California Historical Survey Commission, which organized War History Committees in the fifty-eight counties of the state.

Much work was started and many plans were made for recording California's part in the Great Conflict but at the signing of the Armistice the State Council of Defense went out of existence and its committees, of which the War History Committee was one, ceased to function officially. The importance of the work, however, and the obligation to make available for historical reference the record of the War and the duty of acknowledging and recognizing the service of the soldiers and civilians who made the history of the war years caused a bill to be passed at the last session of the Legislature placing the work of the War History Committee under the jurisdiction of the California Historical Survey Commission.

The State Commission requests that the work in each county be got under way at once and particularly urges that Los Angeles county work out a system and plan that may become a pattern throughout the state, probably because the size and diversity of conditions in this county would present practically every problem that could be encountered elsewhere in the state.

The County Committee will be divided into various sub-committees in charge of different parts of the work. It will be necessary to have local groups through whom the County Committee can work. A plan for these local committees has been made to apply to all the communities of the county. In some of the larger centers of population it may be advisable and even necessary to add to the group designated in this plan but the nucleus of all committees will be made according to this scheme in order to preserve uniformity.

The Local Committee will consist of the local Librarian, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade, a representative of the Press, one to represent Women's Work and one to represent the American Legion. A meeting of this group will be called as early as possible and the Committee will organize (electing its own officers) and plan its own method for carrying out work designated by the County Committee. It is suggested that the local Librarian act as temporary chairman to call this meeting, but this is not imperative if not feasible. Immediately after the meeting the County Chairman should be notified of the personnel of the officers of the local group.

In a word, the work of Los Angeles County's War History Committee is to comb the county for every record of work that was done preparatory to, during or developing from the war. This is, of course, an enormous undertaking as it means accounting for the war activities of one-third of the population of California and the only way it can possibly be accomplished is for the Committee to be able to enlist the help and enthusiasm of every community, even to the smallest. The State Committee has asked for a few very definite things to be done.

1. Biographies of all in the service,—army, navy and civilian branches—are to be obtained. Blanks will be furnished for this work. Wherever possible photographs should be obtained to accompany these biographies. Very special stress should be placed on biographies of those who died in the service. This particular task is to be taken up by the American Legion but the co-operation of the Local Committee is urged. Among the war activities of which a complete report is required are the following:

1. Red Cross.
2. Liberty Loan, War Savings and Thrift Stamp devices.
3. Food Administration.
4. Four-minute Men.
5. Women's Organizations.
6. Legal Aid Committee.
7. Americanization Committee.
8. War Community Council.
9. Farm Labor Committee.
10. Medical and Dental Aid.
11. Boy Scouts.
12. Soldiers' Welfare.
13. Rehabilitation of Returned Soldiers.
14. Public Health.
15. Repression of Enemy Plots, Pacifism and I. W. W. activities.
16. County and Local War legislation.
17. Public War Meetings.
18. Religious Welfare.
19. Library Aid.
20. Newspaper contributions.
21. Public School co-operation.
22. County activities in the State Council of Defense.
23. Registration and Exemption Boards.

There have been in every community certain unique pieces of work that fall under none of these heads. It is especially desirable that these should be recorded and turned in with the other reports to the County Committee. Collections of War publications, newspaper accounts of War activities, printed matter, circulars or advertisements used during the war, programs with patriotic embellishments, papers prepared or presented on war topics, accounts of entertainments given to raise war funds, photographs or accounts of ingenious methods of securing food conservation, etc., etc., are all important for part of the County War Record.

LOCAL SALVAGE WORK

PHILANTHROPY SECTION OF FEDERATION P.-T. A. TO CO-OPERATE

The Glendale Welfare Council held its regular monthly meeting last week when reports were received and plans were discussed, one in particular presented by Mrs. Young, Chairman of Philanthropy, for the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations receiving special consideration. She proposed to have her section co-operate in the securing of funds for the Red Cross and Welfare Council by taking up the collection and sale of newspapers and other salvage. Her idea is to have headquarters in each section of the city, possibly the schools, where the salvage will be received and supervised by some member of the philanthropy section. The money realized from the sale of the salvage will be divided between the local Red Cross Chapter and the Welfare Association.

The headquarters on Glendale Avenue and also the Red Cross Shop on Brand Boulevard having been relinquished, the clothing to be given out has been temporarily taken to the City Hall where it can be given out by workers in the Welfare Council, Mrs. Blackburn, secretary of the Council, being present at the City Hall Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday forencons.

rence and wife, their daughter and her husband, Mrs. and Mr. J. H. Gewinnei, T. S. Lawrence and wife.

T. W. Lawrence was born in England 81 years ago. He came to America with his parents when nine years of age, the family settling in Wisconsin. Young Lawrence elected to learn the building trade, which then meant every branch of house construction, and he devoted all his spare hours to it before and after school. He has worked in many parts of the United States as a builder but was most of the time in Denver, Colo., spending 42 years there and working on many of the big buildings there. He wears his 81 years lightly, his form being erect and his hair only slightly silvered. Clean living and no indulgence in liquor or tobacco account for his remarkable vigor. He says he works nine hours a day steadily and will hold up his end with any workman and compare output with him. He owns 160 acres of Coachella Valley land which he has in dates.

T. S. Lawrence, the nephew, spent most of his life in New York City. From 1902 till 1917, when America entered the war and building operations on a large scale were stopped, he worked with the H. W. Miller Co., the largest plaster contracting firm in the country. He was a supervisor of large contracts and worked on such structures as the Woolworth and Singer buildings, the Pennsylvania Railway Terminal, Carnegie Music Hall and many other large business buildings as well as costly residences in New York. He also helped to plaster most of the Stadler Hotel buildings, scattered all over the country and big buildings in Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, New Orleans and other large cities. He is mightily pleased to settle down in the beautiful location he has chosen for a home and enjoy California sunshine, fruit and flowers.

Both the Lawrences expect to make their grounds beautiful with flowers, shrubbery and fruits.

South Pasadena is building up a splendid business in speeder fines. The more she fines, the more they speed. It's like the hydra-headed monster that Hercules, or Ulysses, or whoever the ancient gink was, tried to kill by cutting off its heads, but every time he cut one off, two grew in its place. He finally got a red hot poker and seared the clipped necks as he cut them off, and stopped further growths. South Pasadena might try the same trick, using the city jail as the poker. That would probably stop the new growths in speeding.

The Ontario Report tells of a Laverne man who was driving across the Pacific Electric track there and his auto was struck by the train, severing the whole front end of the auto and leaving him seated in the car unhurt. He could probably tell from the sound that his engine was missing, without taking the trouble to look.

A clause in the California vehicle law requires written notices to be given the local authorities before any auto or motor vehicle can be altered or wrecked. Drivers contemplating collisions or serious skiddings can get the blanks from the nearest city marshal or sheriff.

A writer with English tendencies who objects to King George continually speaking of the English army and navy as "my army" and "my navy" finds a little consolation in the fact that George does not refer to the national debt of England as "my debt."
